Miller/Wenhold Capitol Strategies CEO Named One of the “Northern Virginians of the Year”

Fairfax, Va., May 31, 2013 – Miller/Wenhold Capitol Strategies, LLC congratulates CEO Paul A. Miller for being named one of Northern Virginia Magazine's “Northern Virginians of the Year”. Paul was chosen for this honor due to his extensive work for the Hoops for Youth Foundation, an organization he founded in 1999 with the mission to provide local at-risk youths with a brighter future.

“For many of us, living and working in our Nation’s Capitol is a dream come true,” notes Paul. “We take for granted the opportunities that seem out of reach for the disadvantaged youth growing up in our area.”

Since its inception, Paul has grown the Hoops for Youth Foundation from an annual Congressional Tournament, to now include coaching clinics, 3-on-3 tournaments, a youth tournament, and a Hill Day for local youths to learn how they, as citizens, can exercise their First Amendment Rights to make a difference in government.

This year, Paul’s efforts have enabled the Foundation to start work on a project to rebuild a D.C. basketball court, to make it a safe, welcoming environment for the area’s kids.

“I’m excited about this project and its potential. Today being a kid isn’t always easy and our hope and goal is to create a safe and carefree place kids can go and simply be kids. For some of these kids a basketball court can be that place to get away from a tough home or neighborhood. We hope this court can be that place for any and all kids in the community who need it,” Paul commented.
